The Scheme of a Local Bank for this Colony, with Branches at the most important places, in China, has been in contemplation for a very long period.

The local and foreign trade in Hongkong and at the open ports in China and Japan has increased so rapidly within the last few years that additional Banking facilities are felt to be required.

The Banks now in China being only branches of Corporations, whose headquarters are in England or India, and which were formed chiefly with the view of carrying on exchange operations between those countries and China, are scarcely in a position to deal satisfactorily with the local trade which has become so much more extensive and varied than in former years.

This deficiency the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Company will supply, and will in fact assume the same position with relation to this Colony as the Presidency Banks in India, or the Banks of Australia in their respective localities.

The Establishment of a Mint in Hongkong, providing an adequate supply of proper currency will render a local Banking medium essential to carry out its operations, and the almost certain disappearance of the existing Compradoric system (so far as money is concerned) will also ensure Banks becoming in course of time the exclusive medium for the transactions of the monetary operations connected with trade.

For the anticipated success of this enterprise there are therefore ample grounds; and the great prosperity which has attended the working of other local associations in China clearly shows that the largest profits are obtained by these Public Companies, which possess an interested local body of Proprietors, or Shareholders, whose support naturally forms a chief element of remunerative success.

The Bank will commence operations simultaneously in Hongkong and Shanghai, and as the importance of its business at the latter place must be very great, it is intended to establish a Local Board of Directors there for more effectually meeting the work. As circumstances render it advisable the Bank will establish Branches at other places.

In the distribution of Shares Hongkong and Shanghai will equally participate. Shares will also be reserved for the other ports in China and Japan and for persons residing elsewhere who are directly interested in the China Trade.

Applications for Shares must be addressed, until further notice, to the Provisional Committee, care of Hongkong, 29th July 1864. Messrs. DENT & Co.

W. WANKLYN'S NEW PATENT HAND AND POWER MACARTHY GIN, WITH FLUTED IRON ROLLER.—The Patentee, in introducing this Gin to Public attention, begs to state that it is believed that the substitution of his Patent Iron Roller, with Grooves or Flutes cut in the Metal, will obviate the universal complaints which are made against the ordinary Rollers covered with Leather. The fine Spiral Grooves which are cut in the Metal itself, are of the most durable character, and being placed much closer together than they can be in Leather, enables the Gin to clean a much greater weight of Cotton, and in this respect will probably equal the Saw Gin, without injuring the Fibres. It strips the Seeds completely without crushing them, or damaging the Cotton in any way, nor will the Iron Roller yield to climatic influences as the Leather Rollers appear to do.

The Patentee is now prepared to grant Licenses for the use of his improvements, and as his Patent Iron Rollers can be made of any dimensions, those parties in Foreign Countries who have Macarthy Gins with faulty Rollers, can have them exchanged for the New Patent Iron Grooved Rollers, and are requested to make a direct application to the Patentee.
W. WANKLYN, Bury, Lancashire.

The price of the New Patent Gin, with Grooved Iron Roller, 11-inch wide, with Gearing to be worked by hand or power, by which latter means it will clean, 30lbs Seed Cotton per hour, which will yield 6 to 10lbs clean Fibre, according to quality	£25 0 0 in Bury.
Do. do., 24-inch wide which will do work in proportion	10 0 0 „

Gins may be seen working at the premises of the Fort Press Company.

The Bombay Gazette.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1864.

IN his very timely letter of warning regarding the coming scarcity in Guzerat, published the other day, Mr. Pedder anxiously anticipated the objections likely to be made to the remedial measure he proposed, on the ground of their interfering with the laws of political economy. As rather indistinct notions prevail generally on the subject, and most people are content to quote glibly a few maxims without enquiring very closely into their immediate applicability, we believe we shall be doing a service by calling attention to the important question, whether the laws of political economy, as established, are applicable, in their entirety and without any modification, to India? In the remarks we are about to make we have no desire or intention of discussing the question ex cathedra. We merely wish to offer a few observations on points if new that seem to have been generally overlooked or disregarded, especially in connection with the leading dogmas of political economy, the law, namely, of demand and supply and that of competition. Are these laws as applicable to India as they are to European States?

According to the great principle of demand and supply, it is supposed that whenever the price of any commodity in any particular place becomes so enhanced that due profit will be realized on importations, a steady stream of the deficient commodity will set in till the natural rate is restored. That this law, therefore, should have its full effect, it is necessary that there should be a complete system of inter-communication and traders able and willing to make use of the same. Accordingly in England we find that the prices of commodities are fairly uniform all over the country, but in India the state of affairs is directly contrary. We sometimes find the prices in one part of the country treble what they are in a neighbouring district. During the famine in the North-West Provinces Col. Baird Smith found grain selling in the contiguous provinces at comparatively low prices. The reason of this is obvious. In the first place the distances in India are very great and the means of inter-communication very deficient. The cost of carriage, where everything has to be conveyed on the back of bullocks or in small carts for hundreds of miles along bad roads, must be so great as almost to counterbalance the high price to be realized at the end of the journey. But we mentioned another requisite for the due working of the law of supply and demand, the willingness, namely, of traders to avail themselves of the means of inter-communication. Here, in the matter of grain, to which our remarks throughout have especial reference, we find ourselves in the hands of a class who work by narrow fixed rules within a circumscribed sphere, who systematically violate the first principles of economy, and who, in their eager grasping after exorbitant profits, are blind to their own interests.

To the nature of the trading class in India it is owing that the law of competition has so little effect. That law pre-supposes traders working independently and ready to take the lowest prices for their commodities consistent with fair profit, in order to secure customers. Thus by the friction of trade prices are kept at their proper level, for naturally no one will buy an article at a high price which he can get equally as good elsewhere at a lower rate. In this country, however, we find, instead of competition, combination. Incapable apparently of political organization, the people of India are unsurpassed in the art of combination for commercial purposes. The fact of each trade being a separate caste gives them a powerful engine to work with. By its means they keep up artificial prices and fill their pockets with ill-got gains. This is particularly the case with the Bunnias, the most grasping, selfish, and heartless class to be found anywhere. The whole of the grain trade of the country may be said to be in their hands, and with them it assumes all the worst features of a monopoly. They settle among themselves what prices they shall demand, reserving for themselves an enormous profit. No individual among them dare act independently and ask a fair price, one which after deducting cost of carriage and labour will leave him a moderate percentage on his capital. Any man acting thus would at once be put out of caste, he would find himself deprived of all social intercourse, and his life would be made a burden to him. He would very soon be obliged to yield to the pressure brought to bear on him, especially as those for whose benefit he endeavoured to act would be the first to leave him in the lurch. Yet such is the force of custom that no one except a member of the caste ever thinks of dealing in grain. The ancestors of the present generation have been fleeced from time immemorial by these harpies, and it has come to be looked on as the proper state of things. The population of India lie at the mercy of grain merchants, possessing a more effective organization than that of any trades-union, who are utterly reckless of human suffering, and only open to considerations of exorbitant money-making. Many of them spend thousands of rupees in feeding dogs and vermin, but not one of them would stretch forth his hand and bestow a pinch of rice to save a human being from starvation. In ordinary times the yoke of these men is almost insupportable, but in times of scarcity it is fearful to contemplate the amount of misery they occasion.

If the case is as we have stated, we think it follows, that, however justly Government interference is to be deprecated in matters of trade at home, the principle does not hold equally good in this country. For instance, we cannot but imagine that Government would do more good in alleviating the famine in Guzerat by direct interposition, as proposed by Mr. Pedder, than by trusting entirely to the efforts of individual wealthy natives. We hope that the latter instead of acting separately and independently will combine to organize measures of relief by establishing grain depots over the country. By combined action much will be effected, and aid will be afforded over a wider area than would be affected by a number of unconnected individual efforts.

"Famine and war have already begun their ravages in Western India. The scarcity is felt most severely in Guzerat, Cutch, and Kattiawar. "The distress among the poor," wrote Mr. Pedder, a Government Revenue Officer in Guzerat, on the 2nd October, "is terrible." And an English officer, writing from a town in Kutch last week, says:—"Every one writes me from "Bombay that things are at famine prices. "Grain is much dearer here than it is with you. "We have a regular famine—eight inches only "of rain—and all the crops that are not watered from wells have failed. One-fourth of "the population of Cutch is leaving it. What "is to be the end of all this?" In Kattiawar, which is inhabited by restless and discontented tribes who, always chafing under the yoke of a settled Government, are eager to seize every opportunity of attempting to achieve their independence, the Waghurs, who gave the Bombay Government so much trouble four years ago till their insurrection was quelled by Brigadier Honnor, have again risen in rebellion, pressed on the one hand by the famine which quickly drives to despair the unproductive and idle class of any community, and urged on the other hand, no doubt, by the hope of plundering the prosperous ryots of the country of at least a portion of those hoards of silver and gold which they have amassed since the commencement of the American War. The Waghurs have been plotting a rising for some time back; and lately at Baroda (the centre of intrigues for all the disaffected of the neighbouring states) one of their chief conspirators who had been caught by the Police was cut down in the presence of the Guicowar while attempting to make his escape. The rebels are in strong force in the Burdah Hills, and in their first encounter with the troops of the Baroda Prince they are reported to have gained a complete success. A British Force has in consequence been sent out against them from Rajkote consisting of—a wing of the 16th Native Infantry, 4 guns of the Mountain Train, and a squadron of the 1st Bombay Lancers. The whole Force is under the command of Major Dennis, of the Lancers, and is accompanied by Major Keatinge, V. C., the Political Agent for Kattiawar. It is to be hoped that the war will be confined within the limits of the Waghur country, and that it will be brought to a speedy end, for there is anything but a cheerful and contented spirit animating a very large class of the population of Western India, and perhaps none have greater reason for complaint than those servants of Government upon whom it would, in time of trouble depend to restore order and obedience throughout the country. Remembering as we do the obstinate resistance of the Waghurs during the former war, and having regard to the immense advantages which these hillmen enjoy in a warfare with regular troops whose attacks they can almost invariably elude, we cannot but fear that the expedition now sent against them is much too weak to settle matters satisfactorily, and that Kattiawar may be allowed this year to furnish us with another illustration of the truth of the proverb, which has been so frequently exemplified in the "little wars" of India, "that the beginning of strife is as the "letting out of waters."

Sir John Lawrence has held at Lahore the most splendid Durbar ever presided over by an English Governor General even in this land of splendid shows and ceremonies. Six hundred Rajahs, great and small, from the Maharajah of Cashmere to the petty border chieftain, met together in the capital of the Punjaub not merely to render homage to the representative of England's Queen, but to offer their sincere tribute of respectful and cordial admiration to the great man who saved India in her hour of sorest need. The speech of the Viceroy was in excellent taste. He spoke to the crowd of Princes and Chiefs in Hindoostanee, recalling with affectionate earnestness the pleasant memories of the time when he and his brother ruled the vast territories of the Punjaub, and, by making the name of Lawrence a terror to evil-doers and a name to be loved and honoured by good citizens, implanted so firm a spirit of loyalty to the English Government in the hearts of the people, that, when the storm of mutiny burst over India, the Sikhs as one man rallied round their captain and helped him to bring into smooth waters the vessel of the State. The Governor-General spoke, in fact, as an attached Chief to his faithful followers in their day of mutual triumph, rather than as a foreign ruler to his Indian subjects; and the nobles of the Punjaub listened to his words with the reverence and faith which the Chiefs of a martial race must pay to one whom they know as a tried and skilful leader of men. No Englishman in this country has ever held a prouder position than that filled by Sir John Lawrence on the day of the Lahore Durbar.

THE VICEROY'S SPEECH AT THE LAHORE DURBAR.

The following is the speech of the Viceroy at the grand public Durbar on the 18th inst.:—

"Maharajahs, Rajahs, and Chiefs,—Listen to my words. I have come among you after an absence of nearly six years, and thank you for the kindly welcome you have given me. It is with pleasure that I meet so many of my old friends, while I mourn the loss of those who have passed away.

"Princes and Chiefs! It is with great satisfaction that I find nearly six hundred of you assembled around me in this Durbar. I see before me the faces of many friends. I recognize the sons of my old allies, the Maharajahs of Cashmere and Puttiala; the Seikh Chiefs of Malwah and the Manjha; the Rajpoot Chiefs of the Hills; the Mahomedan Mutlicks of Peshawur and Kohat; the Sirdars of the Derajat, of Hazara, and Delhi. All have gathered together to do honour to their old ruler.

"My friends! Let me tell you of the great interest which the illustrious Queen of England takes in all matters connected with the welfare, and comfort, and contentment of the people of India. Let me inform you how when I returned to my native country, and had the honour of standing in the presence of Her Majesty—how kindly she asked after the welfare of her subjects in the East. Let me tell you when that great Queen appointed me her Viceroy of India, how warmly she enjoined on me the duty of caring for your interests. Prince Albert, the consort of Her Majesty, the fame of whose greatness and goodness has spread through the whole world, was well acquainted with all connected with this country, and always evinced an ardent desire to see its people happy and flourishing.

"My friends! It is now more than 18 years since I first saw Lahore. For thirteen years I lived in the Punjab. For many years my brother, Sir Henry Lawrence, and I, governed this vast country. You all knew him well, and his memory will ever dwell in your hearts as a ruler who was a real friend of its people. I may truly say that from the day we exercised authority in the land, we spared neither our time, nor our labour, nor our health, in endeavouring to accomplish the work which we had undertaken. We studied to make ourselves acquainted with the usages, the feelings, and the wants of every class and race; and we endeavoured to improve the condition of all. There are few parts of this province which I have not visited, and which I hope that I did not leave in some degree the better for my visit. Since British rule was introduced, taxation of all kinds has been lightened, canals and roads have been constructed, and schools of learning have been established. From the highest to the lowest, the people have become contented, and have proved loyal. When the great Military revolt of 1857 occurred, they aided their Rulers most effectively in putting it down. The chiefs mustered their contingents which served faithfully, and thousands of Punjabee soldiers flocked to our standards, and shared with the British troops the glories, as well as the hardships, of that great struggle.

"Princes and Gentlemen! If it be wise for the Rulers of a country to understand the language and appreciate the feelings of its people, it is as important that they should have a similar knowledge of their Rulers. It is only by such means that the two classes can live happily together. To this end, I urge you to instruct your sons, and even your daughters.

"Among the solid advantages which you have gained from English rule, I will now only advert to one more. It has given the country many excellent administrators. Some of the ablest and kindest of my countrymen have been employed in the Punjab. Every man, from the highest to the lowest, can appreciate a good ruler. You have such men as Sir Robert Montgomery; Mr. Donald McLeod; Mr. Roberts; Sir Herbert Edwardes; Colonel Lake; and Colonel John Becher—officers who have devoted themselves to your service.

"I will now only add that I pray the Great God, who is the God of all the races and all the people of this world, that he may guard and protect you, and teach you all to love justice and [illegible] rule [illegible] this [illegible]. May He give you all [illegible] for your real benefit. So long as I live, I shall never forget the years that I passed in the Punjab and the friends that I have acquired throughout this province."

NEWS-LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

RAJKOTE, 21st OCTOBER.

THE tocsin of war has been sounded throughout this land; the standard of revolt has been raised; and the shibboleth of the Waghurs is—"justice or war." Synchronously the banners of Britannia's proud majesty have been flauntingly unfurled to the heavy march of guns, cavalry and infantry, accompanied with the martial strains of clarionets and cymbals of the gallant 16th N. I., the Commissariat forming the rear-guard. And all this imposing array for the purpose of coercing into allegiance a paltry mob of fifty Waghurs, who have successfully defied the British Government since the battle of Beyt. The canaille are reasonably nonplussed, how it is that these people whose country forms but a barren and insignificant nook on the map of India, are still at large, and allowed to disturb and harass the mammoth lion of the West with impunity. Reports are received of posts and communications occasionally cut off; towns and villages ruthlessly plundered; and of black mail levied from the subjects of the Guicowar and Jam, on pain of extirpation, by a small band of hardy mountaineers. All will regard with feelings of humiliation the alleged sine qua non of calling out troops to quell the shock of battle and din of war, originally emanating from the expatriation of those now devastating a portion of Kattywar, to which the Waghurs are traditionally known to be passionately attached, and of which they were the landed proprietors, and constituted but a few years ago the aristocracy of Dwarka. The Waghurs never owed fealty to the Guicowar, but were mere nominal feudatories, when their primordial lands were bartered to the Guicowar to complete a bargain of mutual aggrandisement at the commencement of the present century. Ever since, they have been ground down by their Pharoahs, and their homesteads spoliated and desolated, whilst fruitlessly assailing the portals of the Political Agency, since 1859-60, for justice and redress. Even now, let the Guicowar take time by the forelock, proclaim an amnesty, and allot to each in fief sufficient soil for sustentation, when, doubtlessly, these otherwise peaceably disposed people will settle down in quietness, as in days of yore, to eat bread by the sweat of their brow. Moreover it would be effected dissimulation to deny what is patent and extant, that the barometer of public feeling oscillates between uneasiness and despondency; as it is believed that the recalcitration of the Waghurs is fomented and espoused by some of the influential Chiefs, in consequence of the alleged speculative political policy pursued in this Peninsula. Some two years ago the Friend of India with a prescience of coming events now justified prognosticated the probable eventuality of the Doctrinaire fatalism of estranging the affections of the chiefs and peoples, by introducing innovations after innovations into this semi-civilised province with a precipitancy not only calculated to irritate the passions of the lords and children of the soil but by a sudden transition to sweep away, at one fell swoop, deeply-rooted and immemorial traditions and prejudices, hallowed by time, sanctioned by religion, and, as yet unaffected by European intercourse or advancing knowledge;—Customs and laws, dogmatically believed to have been guaranteed by international comity if not treaties, and ratified and confirmed by Her Majesty in the Proclamation to the princes, chiefs, and peoples of India, on assuming the direct control of "the brightest jewel in her royal diadem." But now, hypothetically considering themselves reduced, by a violent abnegation of sovereignty, from the position of independent tributary chiefs to the level of vassels, memory instinctively looks back upon scenes and associations—

WE have to state that we were misinformed in reference to a statement which appeared in our local columns on Wednesday last in reference to certain charges preferred against Mr. Framjee Cowasjee Mehta, Bullion-keeper at the Bombay Mint. It was stated in the paragraph referred to, that "the books of the Bullion Department were examined and depositions of certain shroffs were taken. There is reason to believe that there will be a strong case against the unfortunate man, &c." We are now informed that the case is still under investigation, and may add that similar charges have been brought against Mr. Framjee on two previous occasions, in both of which he was fully exonerated from the charges, and from what we hear of the present case there is reason to believe that he will be able to do so again on the present occasion.

THE ELPHINSTONE CLUB.—The Club made their first appearance on the stage this season on Wednesday night last; and were rewarded for their exertions by a very good house. The scenery and dresses are, we believe, new, and looked very passable. The performance passed off on the whole well, and the actors seemed well up in their parts, though many of them were heard very indistinctly in the Dress Circle. The Club seems to have no idea of selecting amateurs adapted for particular parts by figure and voice, but apparently gives parts to those who can gabble them off the fastest. The long, lanky figure and shrill voice of the amateur who played Iago, in particular, were totally unadapted to the character, which is a most difficult one to perform. We trust that in their next performance they will pay a little more attention to this, as it spoils the effect of their otherwise good acting; and if they do so we have no doubt they will be fully recompensed by full houses.

WEATHER REPORT.

FOR THE COLLECTORATE OF RUTNAGHERRY.
(For the Fortnight ending 15th October 1864.)

IN MALWAN.—There has been no rain, owing to which it is apprehended that there will be a loss in the produce to the extent of about 6 annas in the rupee in the produce of wuskas crop, as also loss of one-eighth part of the rice crop.

VIZIADROOG.—No rain; it is thought there will be a loss of one-half in the produce of the later rice crop, and one-quarter part of the early rice, the reaping of which is fast going on.

RUTNAGHERRY.—No rain; and it is anticipated that there will be a deficiency of about one fourth part of the produce of later rice and a half in that of wuskas crops.

ANJUNWELL AND SOOVERNDROOG.—Slight rain. The later rice and wuskas crops have suffered damage.

The health in the above districts has been good, with the exception of Rutnagherry, where three persons died of cholera, and ten from small-pox.

COLLECTORATE OF DHARWAR.

DHARWAR, HOOBLEE AND KODE.—No rain fell; and the crops are drying for want of it. The jowaree in some villages has been attacked by grubs; the sowing of gram and wheat is in progress.

KHULJUTGHEE, HANGUL AND BUNKAPOOR.—Rain fell slightly in some villages. Sugarcane is thriving. Rice, except where irrigated, drying up.

RANEEBEDNOOR, KURUGODE AND ROAD.—Rain fell slightly; the crops sown in the black soil are in good condition, those in red soil are drying up.

DUMBUL.—The crops are in good condition, but more rain is required.

NOWLGOOND.—Rain fell throughout the talooka, and the crops are flourishing. Owing to heavy rain the bank of the Sunkdul Tank had burst and injured the jowaree crops around. General health good, fever and ague slightly prevailing in a few villages. Fall of rain 5 in. 72 cts.

COLLECTORATE OF POONA.

In the talookas of Sewnere, Pabul, Khair, Mawul, Havelly, Poorundhur, Indapoor and Bheemthurry during the last fortnight slight showers of rain fell. Some of the early crops are withering except a few places in Poorundhur and Sewnere districts where there is moisture enough in the soil. Owing to want of rain the cultivators have not been able to commence the sowing of the late, or rubbee, crops in several parts of the collectorate, and where the sowing has been completed the want of rain is much felt.

With the exception of the Pabul and Poorundhur talookas, where cattle disease and fever and ague are reported to have made their appearance, the public health was good throughout the collectorate. Fall of rain 3 in. 29 cts.

SUBMARINE TELEGRAPH, PERSIAN GULF.

S.S. Amberwitch, off Cape Monze, 12th October 1864.
From F. C. WEBB,
In engineering charge of the Submarine Telegraph,
To the Secretary to Government, Bombay.

SIR,—I have the honor to inform you, for the information of his Excellency the Governor and Council, that I proceeded to sea in the Amberwitch on the 8th instant to commence the operation of the repairs of the Guadur-Kurrachee Telegraph Cable. The tests taken up to the date of leaving showed a fault off Astola island, and another near Guadur. As, however, no tests had been taken for a considerable period from Cape Monze, I landed there and tested, in order to ascertain if any further change had taken place in the state of this cable. I found on testing that a fault existed close to Cape Monze. I therefore cut the cable about 6½ miles out, and found that seawards there was no fault between 7 miles out and Astola island.

I will now describe all the circumstances at the place where the first cut took place, very near the shore; I found the deep sea cable served at 5 miles from shore, and chafed, nearly entirely though close to this place; the heavy shore end was then found at ½ a mile from shore and much chafed in other places. The ground for several miles off here appears to be so rocky that I fear the cable will not last long if relayed. I propose, therefore, if possible, and if Government approve, relaying cable eventually to Manora, as having possibly a better beach and combining the advantage of proximity to Kurrachee, so that cable could be frequently tested, an operation which could only, when cable ended at Cape Monze, be performed at long intervals, owing to the distance and difficult route to be traversed. If the cable end should be injured at Manora the proximity to Kurrachee will also be an advantage, as special boats will always have to be obtained for dealing with the heavy shore ends in water where the ship cannot go.

It is probable, however, that the repair of the faults off Astola and Guadur may absorb so much of our spare cable as to render it imprudent to make the deviation to Manora, favouring as it will an expenditure of 18 miles of cable, until a further supply is obtained from England. I intend, therefore, attempting a repair of the faults off Astola and Guadur first, and if these repairs do not absorb much cable I shall, if Government approve, relay the cable to Manora. This will necessitate a land line of about 10 miles. In any case, after the repair of the Astola and Guadur faults, I shall be obliged to return to Kurrachee, even if I relay cable back to Cape Monze, as a proper boat for landing the shore end must be obtained; and in the case of landing cable at Manora some more cable out of the tanks ashore will be required. I respectfully request, therefore, the sanction of Government to this deviation of the line if I find the cable in stock sufficient for carrying it out while still leaving some cable in stock for future repairs.

The faults in this section, though much to be regretted, as far as I have seen at present, need not give any fears as to the ultimate durability of the section. The faults off Cape Monze are entirely caused by the rocky ground, and a slight stream which constantly sets to the southward, and no doubt has caused the cable to oscillate and vibrate on the edges of rocks, thus, as it were, filing it though; the cable, when not actually resting on rocks, being a perfect order. I have little doubt that the places where the cable lies on rocky ground, will be all pretty well determined after the repair of the Astola and Guadur faults, and if not then, I have no doubt another year will find out all the rocky places, and the cable will not again be interrupted for such a lengthened time as in the present case.

In order that the work may not be delayed, may I respectfully suggest that the decision of Government in this matter may be telegraphed to me to Kurrachee and Guadur.

MR. PREMCHUND ROYCHUND'S FETE TO THE HON. MR. SCOTT.

MR. PREMCHUND ROYCHUND gave a grand entertainment to the Hon. Mr. Scott on Tuesday evening at his bungalow in Love Lane. It was a very grand affair indeed, nearly 2000 persons it is supposed were present on the occasion, and as the hero, who it was intended to worship, had been identified with all the great schemes of the day, it was of course forgetting the great Back Bay Job, it was not to be wondered at that the devotees who were invited to do him honour on this occasion should be reminded by "happily contrived" scenic effects, which met their gaze at all points, what they have to do. Among the decorations there was a large transparency which was exhibited a full sized portrait of the honoured guest painted, we are told, by native artists, in the corners of which the words of the "Scott" were emblazoned,—the "Back Bay Reclamation Company," the "Victoria Land and Press Company," the "Asiatic Banking Corporation," and the "Bombay Shipping Company." There were of course countless thousand of lights and many other devices, and no opportunity was lost sight of to remind the vast assemblage "of the man whom they had met to honor." The company began to arrive soon after 9 o'clock which kept the worthy host fully employed for a long time in their reception. The Italian Opera Company were present and gave a grand concert in a splendidly decorated saloon which was soon crammed full with European ladies and gentlemen, whilst crowds of the native community had to content themselves with squeezing in where they could, and those who could not manage to feast their eyes were obliged to content themselves with listening from without.

The concert commenced at 9 o'clock when Professor E. Uglietti executed in brilliant style "Il Suono di Döhler" on the pianoforte, which called forth the unanimous applause of his audience. It is very seldom that we have the pleasure of hearing a performance so artistically rendered; it was evident that the piano was in the hands of one who was a perfect master of the instrument. The professor is a worthy pupil of the famous Maestro Bellini. He was followed by the violinist Herr A. Kroemer, who performed a fantasia "Capriccio" with much taste and feeling which won the plaudits of his audience. Fraulein Jackson then sang the "Casta Diva" "Norma" which was "rapturously received. Signors Gotti and Fiorani sang with great gusto the duetto from "Marino Faliero" and were most cordially greeted. Signor Gotti distinguished himself in the cavatina "Guaramenti" and the universal applause which came from all parts of the crowded saloon and from the adjacent rooms told that two unquestionable talents were fully appreciated. Signor Orsi sang the "Romanza Torquato Tasso" to the great satisfaction of the audience. Signor Zappini earned great applause in "Linda," his voice and ever jolly smiling face contribute greatly to his success. [illegible] which renders him the more amusing, and he always [illegible] the most of his [illegible]. Signor Bosetti was [illegible] in the "Elisir d' Amore." But, the gem of the [illegible] was reserved for [illegible] and expression. Her fine [illegible] both the eye and ear. Her duetto from "Elisir d'Amore" called down most vehement and enthusiastic applause. The appearance of this young lady is in harmony with her song, there is nothing very grand or dazzling about either, but there is a something suitable and pre-excellent. Signor Guisti, of whom we have already spoken, acquitted himself in splendid style in the romanza "Luisa Miller." He is evidently a good actor and appears to have great confidence. The "Terzetto Lombardo" formed the finale and was executed by Fraulein Jackson, Signors Guisti and Fiorani to the entire satisfaction of an admiring audience.

At 11 o'clock the guests left the saloon and descended into the gardens which were one blaze of light, where a splendid supper was laid for the European guests. About 400 ladies and gentlemen (European of course), sat down and did, as Europeans are wont to suppose, ample justice thereto. After which a Parsee gentleman, Dossabhoy Framjee we believe, called for a bumper, as Europeans are wont to do, and addressed the company. He dilated upon the high attainments of the honoured guest of the evening, his rare talents, and the incalculable benefits derived from his valuable advice by the native mercantile community. The speaker then lamented the loss which all the friends and admirers of the Hon. gentleman would sustain on his departure for old Scotia. The speaker concluded by proposing the health of the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. Scott. The Hon'ble Mr. Scott returned thanks in a very modest address, remarking that, in his own opinion, he had not much to be proud of in India, except that he had always tried to do his best for the benefit of the people. He must confess he was proud of his native friends, whose good opinion he had gained and whom he loved very dearly indeed. He thanked all for their kindness and good wishes, and sat down amid loud and universal applause.

The Hon'ble Mr. Scott proposed the health of the host, Mr. Premchund Roychund. He had known that gentleman during the last thirteen years and found in him many qualities to admire. He was well known as an energetic and successful man of business. But he had done much more than this, he had made a good use of his money. He had ever been a kind-hearted and good "Samaritan." Many occasions had arisen in which he had to appeal to Mr. Premchund in matters of charity, not only for the benefit of his own countrymen but for the relief of the distress of peoples of all colors and creeds; and he never appealed to Mr. Premchund in vain. He had contributed largely of this abundance, to the promotion of education and improvement in this country, and to works of public utility in Bombay and elsewhere; and as well assured he was of Mr. Premchund's liberal views and his desire to be useful to his fellowmen, that he was not at all astonished when he heard of the princely contribution of two lacs which Mr. Premchund had made for the foundation of a University Library. But Mr. Scott had still greater pleasure in knowing that his friend had made a further munificent donation of two lacs of rupees for the University itself. He therefore proposed a bumper to the health of Mr. Premchund Roychund. This was of course complied with.

At 12 o'clock the company were treated to a magnificent display of fireworks, by Professor Johnston, which entirely threw into the shade everything that was ever seen in this country, or (as an intelligent native gentleman declared) at Old Vauxhall or even modern Cremorne. The concluding display, was a well infused contemporary "was a splendid arch, from the centre of which came a cascade of rockets of every hue and description, appeared the illuminated words "Friendship's Offering."

LAYING THE CORNER STONE OF THE ELPHINSTONE CIRCLE.

THE following is the address read by the Hon. M. H. Scott to His Excellency the Governor on the occasion of the laying of the foundation (or corner) stone of the Elphinstone Circle on Wednesday afternoon:—

To HIS EXCELLENCY SIR H. B. E. FRERE,
Governor of Bombay.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,—We have deemed it right to ask your Excellency to honor by your presence this day the commencement of those great public improvements which will, we trust, ere long, render this city worthy of her proud position as the metropolis of Western India.

The general architecture of our city have for years been a standing reproach, whether considered as regards the outward appearance of our buildings merely, or as regards their safety and durability. This reproach we trust is now about to be removed.

Your Excellency is aware of the circumstances which led to the erection of this Circle. The project originally emanating from our esteemed fellow citizen, Mr. Forjett, and urged upon this community with all the energy by which every action of that gentleman was characterized, speedily gained favour. The preliminary arrangements were very soon completed, and less than two years have sufficed to render the Elphinstone Circle almost an accomplished fact.

At the first meeting of the purchasers of land on the old Bombay Green, it was unanimously agreed to give to the new Circle the name of the honored statesman who had ruled this Presidency so ably, and who had served India so well during the trying times of the Mutiny, and whose loss we still deplore.

In giving to our work the name of this great and good Governor who ruled Bombay for six eventful years we seek to offer our slight tribute of respect to his memory, but no poor efforts of ours is necessary to ensure the remembrance of the name of Elphinstone.

The buildings which are now rising around us and the more stately edifices which will shortly adorn our Esplanade will serve to mark to all future generations the period of your Excellency's reign, a period of material progress and prosperity for Bombay which, we believe, will be found to be unexampled in the history of nations.

We now beg that your Excellency will honor our work by laying the corner stone.

(Signed by the owners of the buildings in course of construction or by their representatives).

His EXCELLENCY in reply spoke as follows:—

I have felt it a duty to attend on this occasion because, while recalling many recollections of the past, which we would not willingly have forgotten, it points to a future of great interest to all who may be in Bombay when we, who are now present, shall have passed away.

This pile of buildings is to bear a name which for two generations has been regarded with just reverence throughout this Presidency. This is not the time to speak of Lord Elphinstone's claim to a high place on the roll of Indian statesmen, nor even to dwell on that noble courtesy and high bred regard for the feelings of others which lent such a charm to his intercourse with society. It is enough to recall what Bombay owes him for those municipal and local improvements which alone are needed to make her one of the fairest, as she is one of the greatest, cities of the East.

Lord Elphinstone once told me that with regard to the Island of Bombay he had three great objects in view, which he trusted he might accomplish during his administration. They were an ample supply of good water, the effectual drainage of the Town and Island, and the reclamation of all those marshes and pestilential foreshore surrounding Bombay, and the southern and western portions of Salsette, which medical science assures us are so prejudicial to the health of this Island.

You all know how much of this noble purpose he effected.

The Vehar Water Works would of themselves form a magnificent monument of the most successful administration—a perfect system of drainage, though long delayed, is now I trust in course of successful execution. Much has been already done in which you, Sir, have had a prominent share, and much more will, I trust, be soon effected to render the marshes and foreshore of this Island and Salsette, no longer a source of malaria, but the seat of successful commerce and of healthful agriculture.

Lord Elphinstone had, as you are aware, an almost filial regard for a city, the name of which will ever be connected with the fame of his great relative and predecessor, and I can imagine the feelings with which he would have witnessed this effectual commencement of a series of edifices which, when complete, will, I hope, render the Island as striking in regard to architectural, as it already is in natural, beauty.

For be it remembered this is first of those projected architectural works which spreading beyond the limits of our old Fort, will, I trust, contribute to the permanent convenience and adornment of all the most frequented quarters of our Island.

You have mentioned the share which I have had in this work; but it is only justice to my immediate predecessor to say, that Sir George Clerk had completed all the arrangements for sanctioning the erection of the Elphinstone Circle before he laid down the government. The circumstance that he is, though not among us, still in the active service of Her Majesty in England, precludes my speaking of him with the same freedom as in the case of his lamented predecessor. I cannot, however, help recalling to you events which by lapse of time have become historical and which are within the living memory of but few here present.

It is difficult to convey to any one who only knows the Punjab as it is now an adequate idea of the state of things in India immediately after the Cabool disasters.

We cannot now help thinking of the Punjab as the province which forms as it were the great outwork of British India. Rich, peaceful, industrious, amply garrisoned, and not only aiding to preserve the peace of India, but sending forth its gallant soldiers to uphold the honor of England at the very gates of the capital of China.

While paying our just tribute to the genius and courage which have converted this great kingdom into an essential element in the strength of British India, let us not forget the time which is still in the recollection of some of us, when the Punjab hung like a thunder cloud over our N. W. frontier, [illegible]ck's Army strove to retrieve in Affghanistan the misfortunes of [illegible] like greyhounds in the leash eager to contend for the mastery of India, and a vast and well disciplined army, of which we a few years after proved the prowess, interposed between our distant forces and our own Indian Frontier.

At that time, it is no exaggeration to say that the temper and action of the whole Seikh nation depended on one man, and that one man kept them to their treaties, and awed them into an attitude of passive watchfulness, not by legions at his back, nor by any hereditary claim on their obedience, but by sheer force of character, by the respect which even the wild beast of the forest pays to unflinching courage, and which the least civilized of mankind feel for unswerving honor, and fidelity to duty.

It always seemed to me a fit ending of such service that after so long standing sentinel on our N. W. Frontier, Sir George Clerk finished his Indian career in devising plans for adorning or improving the commercial facilities of the great capital of Western India.

For let us never forget, that all this prosperity that we see around us is mainly due to that wide-spread peace and security to which services such as those which Sir George Clerk rendered in 1843, and Lord Elphinstone rendered within your own recollection in 1857-8, have so largely contributed. The same Harbour, the same natural facilities, have always existed. It is because God has blessed us with peace, because the trader can pursue unmolested his peaceful calling throughout our India, that this wealth is now pouring in on Bombay; and I feel that it is a good augury for the permanence of this state of things that when you choose as the title of this great pile, a name which recalls like Lord Elphinstone all that is best in the Government of British India, and all that is noblest in the character of the services of that Government. I feel that while you admire his lofty integrity, his generous and unswerving devotion to public duty, his utter forgetfulness of all sordid personal advantage, you have set before our public men a model, the very attempt to imitate which, must be a fair guarantee for successful service of the State.

We are often warned that this prosperity cannot last, that it is hollow and transient, and will leave Bombay after a brief period of inflated prosperity much as she had been for centuries previous.

God forbid that I should tell you to despise such warning or urge presumptuous reliance on the present.

No prudent man can expect such a tide of prosperity to continue without check, and when the check comes it will doubtless overwhelm many who have nothing to trust to but the favouring breath of fortune—who have not the warning to steer their bark aright, and like all who meddle with what is not their proper business must sooner or later incur failure and disgrace.

But I would fain augur better things for the great permanent establishments connected with the commerce of Bombay, which will here, I hope, find their home, and which you, Sir, so worthily represent; and I would rather trust the anticipations of my reason which tells me that if we are blessed with a continuance of peace and general security as our Railways penetrate farther into the country and as our steamers multiply on our coasts, what we now see will be but the precursor of a much greater development of commercial activity, and that we may hope for many years to come to witness such a steady increase of commercial prosperity as will require a vast extension of such noble buildings as this of which we now lay the corner stone. Of this at least I am sure. When I look to the way in which the men who will live and labor here are employing their wealth, when I consider the example set us by Mr. Cowasjee Jehangeer (whom I am sorry not to see here to-day, and whose absence I regret the more because I believe that without his aid this Circle would never have been begun), by the Jamsetjees, the Sunkersetts and Sassoons, the Premchunds and so many others of our great merchants, I cannot but feel that come what will History will write up the gifts of the men who built this pile.

"These men knew how worthily to use the gifts which God had given them."

FORT POLICE OFFICE.—27th October.

BEFORE N. W. OLIVER, ESQ.)

ASSAULT.—Charles Blaney, Chief Officer of the steamer General Outram, was charged with assaulting Babourow Gopus, a passenger, between Vingorla and Bombay.

Mr. Leathes appeared for the prosecution.

It appeared from the statement of the prosecutor, that he was on deck, when the defendant came and told him to move to another place forward; prosecutor replied he had paid his passage, when defendant knocked him down with a blow on the forehead, and when he was down kicked him on the nose. A doctor's certificate was produced which stated the extent of injuries received.

The defendant admitted the assault, but said he had received orders from the Captain not to allow those passengers of complainant's party to remain in the cabin: he told complainant to go forward, when he became abusive. The defendant admitted having then struck him. He was fined Rs. 100, or in default suffer two months' imprisonment: if the fine be realized Rs 50 to be paid to complainant.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE GAZETTE AND THE TIMES OF INDIA.

To the Editor of the Bombay Gazette.

SIR,—You may not care to notice—and such silence would fitly indicate the contempt the production deserves—a leader in the Times of India of the 22nd instant, reflecting upon the character of your journal; but as the impertinence of the writer betrays him into an allusion to your supporters, I venture to claim a small space in your columns for the insertion of some remarks I wish to make. Let me begin by premising that I am a staunch admirer of the Bombay Gazette and have been so for several years past. At the same time I have no vested or personal interest whatever in the paper, and am unacquainted with the people who have any share in its conduct. I can say precisely the same thing with regard to the Times of India. While admiring the Gazette I have had the pleasure and gratification of taking it in regularly. I may sometimes object to the views enunciated by the paper, but I oftener have reason to be satisfied with their justice and soundness, and can at all times discern the evidence of real talent and ability or thorough knowledge, in the manner in which subjects are handled. Above all I have heartily approved of the honest, manly, and independent tone which the Bombay Gazette has steadily maintained ever since I have known it. The Times of India I see regularly. Formerly, when I saw it only rarely, I believe the Times was worth reading, but it was enough for me to know that the Editor was an abject partizan of the natives of the country, and that he prostituted his powers to the flattering of those people under all and any circumstances whatsoever. Now I am able to judge for myself: and I must say that the Times of India, despite its vaunting and pretentious air, indulges in the rankest toadyism and is addicted to a most contemptible style of writing. Its systematic and unbounded praise of the Covenanted Civil Service proves the Times to be a class paper, and unworthy, in consequence, of the patronage of the general public. This slight allusion is sufficient to illustrate my meaning as to the charge of toadyism. As regards contemptible writing, the article to which I have referred serves as a very good specimen. A painful endeavour is made, at the commencement, to ape the unadorned but vigorous style of the London Saturday Review, as thus:—

"There are two methods of telling a man that he is of some importance in the community in which he lives;" and presently this passage succeeds—a suppositious Jones having been conjured up to help out a poor argument. "He" (the aforesaid Jones) "delicately deprecates some stunning expressions." This is used in the sense of the slang phrases a "stunning good thing" and a "stunning fine horse," and exhibits the very reverse of good taste. Surely it ought not to have been introduced in a journal professing excellence in all points, and a paramount influence over the enlightened opinion of the country. But what I have quoted is comparatively unobjectionable alongside another, and perfectly crushing, instance of misjudged intellectual ambition, and the hideousness of which I am compelled to expose. The imaginary Jones is hypothetically suspected of "serving his own turn by some inexplicable dodgery by doing or saying things which seem to tell the other way, when he is accused of egotism, bigotry, malice, hatred, and all uncharitableness."

The only comment on this is brief and simple. Fancy mixing slang with a quotation from the Prayer Book, an unacknowledged quotation, too, by the way. I have accidentally noted that the present Editor of the Times of India is a clergyman. I can readily believe this to be the truth after reading such passages as the above. Now, laymen, I consider, would esteem it as impious to write in this strain: the Rev. gentleman who "manages" the Times, I fear, thinks differently.

The complaisance with which the Editor of the Times draws a parallel between himself and Lord Palmerston as the best abused man in England bespeaks a large amount of presumption; but I have nothing farther to say in reference to the same except that the circumstance is vastly amusing.

It is no less amusing to find "Sir Oracle" dub his a "large paper," while the Gazette is pronounced to be a "small one"—as regards their respective positions, of course, in the field of journalism. Now in nine cases out of ten, when your paper and the Times have been compared with each other, I have heard an opinion given in favour of yours, and an increasing subscription list must, I am sure, be confirming the preference so generally entertained.

I could say a great [illegible] more on this subject, but other occupation prev[illegible] doing so.

MADRAS.

THE WEATHER.—The high wind which prevailed on Tuesday night and all Wednesday did some little damage in various parts of the town. In Nungumbaukum part of a house occupied by three or four gentlemen was completely blown down, a large tree at the Elphinstone Hotel was uprooted and falling on the wall, destroyed it and a portion of a brick shed adjoining; a little lower down the road near Mr. Logan's, the hairdresser's, a building in course of completion has been much injured. There was a favourable change in the weather yesterday, boats being able to go backwards and forwards to the shipping. The sky still, however, looks threatening towards the N. E.—Times, Oct. 21

MYSTERIOUS ROBBERY.—A strange robbery was committed in the Central Bank of Western India on Sunday last. The Bank imports large quantities of gold ingots from Melbourne, which are (we believe) left in charge of the Accountant, Mr. Sumner; and on the day in question that gentleman, leaving the gold-chest open, went to take his tiffin, in a room adjoining his own office, the Manager being seated outside, so that apparently no one could have entered the Accountant's room without either Mr. Irvine or Mr. Sumner seeing them. The gold bars were not counted by Mr. Sumner on his return, but the next day he discovered that one bar valued at Rs. 2,500 had been abstracted; but how or by whom it is not possible at present to form an opinion. The Police have been endeavouring to trace the robbery, but as yet have been unsuccessful, and we are much afraid that the thief will never be discovered, as the gold being nearly in its virgin state, could be disposed of to the Shroffs with great facility and speedily remelted and worked up into ornaments and jewellery.—Id

THE NEILGHERRIES.

WE may mention that either on the night of the fifth, or that of Thursday, the sixth, we are not quite sure which, there was a sort of infant gale, accompanied with much rain in Ootacamund. The circumstance will perhaps prove of interest to meteorologists. One thing is certain, and this is, that the wind that blew from the north previous to the incipient gale in question, veered to the south after it, and the north-east monsoon has been in consequence beyond time in making its appearance. We read of a similar result in Madras, pointing, as we conclude, to the retarding influence of autumnal gales on the periodical change of wind attending the earth's revolution. If the disarrangement of atmospheric equilibrium is more general than commonly accepted, we should be informed of another section of the cyclone that visited Calcutta, sweeping down the gulf of Aden from the coast of Africa, and overtaking the unfortunate ships in its course. For this intelligence, however, we must wait.—Neilgherry Excelsior, Oct. 2[illegible].

JENNY LIND'S DEBUT.—The Queen received her with marked attention. The Dowager Queen invited her to visit her Majesty in private. Invitations, which she was as unwilling as unable to accept, were showered on her by the English nobility. The late Duke of Wellington was most sedulous in his demonstrations of respect and admiration, and on one occasion invited her to his country seat, promising that "music should form no topic of the conversation." But amid all the honours they lavished upon her, the shy prima donna invariably preferred the intimacy of her choice private circle, and was glad to flee the flattering incense sought to be bestowed upon her, by escaping to the country house of the kind friend who had first welcomed her in London. There she would heartily enjoy a ride, or rural ramble; and anon, seated among wild ferns and shaded by ancient beech-trees, she would study her new parts, the score laid open upon her lap. Every anecdote which transpired abroad, every detail which could be caught up, eagerly seized upon as it was by the "outside" public, contributed to throw a romantic halo about the name of the favourite prima donna.—*Reminiscences of the Opera. THE MONEY MARKET.

BACK Bay shares fell Rs. 500 a share yesterday, being neglected by speculators for the shares in the new Land Company for the reclamation of the ground purchased along with the site of the Gunpowder Works at Mazagon. These shares, though not yet allotted, have already reached a very high premium, and bid fair to rival Back Bays. There was also much speculation in Alliance Financials, which rose fully 7 per cent., and in Chinas which advanced 4 per cent. In other Bank shares there was not much doing, and our quotations are for the most part unaltered.

Avec de mauvaises dents jamais femme n'était belle,
Avec de jolies dents jamais femme ne'toit laide.
J. J. ROUSSEAU.

MR. ADOLPH GABRIEL,

THE WELL KNOWN DENTIST OF LONDON,

HAS the honour to announce to the Nobility, Gentry and Public of Bombay, that he may be consulted upon all Diseases of the Teeth, daily, from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. at his Office,

No. 9. RAMPART ROW, FORT.

IMPORTANCE OF THE TEETH.

A perfect set of Teeth is indispensable to Nourishment, Health, Beauty and Voice.

AS TO NOURISHMENT,

Because the Food must be thoroughly masticated to be perfectly distributed throughout the system.

AS TO HEALTH,

Because if the mastication is imperfect, the food oppresses the organs of digestion; and if the Teeth are unsound they vitiate the normal secretions of the mouth.

AS TO BEAUTY,

Because imperfect Teeth disfigure the mouth, and also distort the regular outline of the face.

AS TO THE VOICE.

Because the tone and articulation are both damaged by the want of a complete set, and by misplaced or imperfect Teeth.

THE FUNCTIONS OF DENTAL SURGERY ARE:—

Firstly.—To direct the proper growth of the Teeth in youth.

Secondly.—To arrest the progress of decay

Thirdly.—To reinstate Teeth which have become wanting or imperfect.

EFFICIENCY OF ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

The inventions of MR. A. CHLORODYNE.—CHOLERA, DYSENTERY, DIARRHŒA, CRAMP, AGUE, FEVER, RHEUMATISM, &c.

—All pain, vomiting, and distress ceases in a few minutes after taking a dose of that wonderful SEDATIVE ANODYNE and ANTISPASMODIC remedy CHLORODYNE.

Discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne, M.R.C.S.L. (ex-Army Med. Staff) the recipe of which was confided solely to J. T. Davenport, 33, Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury-square, London (Pharmaceutical Chemist). The medical testimony of civil, hospital, military and naval practitioners pronounces it Invaluable. It relieves pain of any kind, soothes the restlessness of fever, and imparts the most refreshing sleep, without producing or leaving any of the unpleasant effects of opium.

As a proof of its efficacy a few extracts from numerous testimonials by Physicians and Surgeons are given:—

From W. WESALIUS PETTIGREW, M.D., Hon. F.R.C.S., England, formerly Lecturer upon Anatomy and Physiology at St. George's School of Medicine,—"I have used it in Consumption, Asthma, Diarrhœa, and other diseases, and am most perfectly satisfied with the results."

Dr. Gibbon, Army Medical Staff, Calcutta.—"Two doses completely cured me of Diarrhœa."

From C. V. RIDOUT, Esq., Surgeon, Egham.—"As an Astringent in severe Diarrhœa, and an antispasmodic in Colic with Cramps in the Abdomen, the relief is instantaneous."

Extracts from the GENERAL BOARD OF HEALTH London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.

1st Stage, or Premonitory—in this stage the remedy acts as a charm, one dose generally sufficient.

2nd Stage, or that of Vomitting and Purging—In this stage the remedy possesses great power, more than any other we are acquainted with, two or three doses being sufficient.

3rd Stage, or Collapse—in all cases restoring the pulse. So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases.

From Dr. MONTGOMERY, late Inspector of Hospitals Bombay.—"Chlorodyne is a most valuable in neuralgia, asthma, and dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen month's severe suffering, and when all other medicine has failed."

CAUTION.—In consequence of the extraordinary efficacy of the remedy, several unprincipled parties have been induced to vend imitations. Never be tempted to buy Chlorodyne, except in sealed bottles, having the, Government stamp, with the words "Dr. J. Collis, Browne's Chlorodyne" engraved thereon. A sheet full of medical testimonials accompanies each bottle. Sole manufacturer J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, London. Sold in bottles 2s. 9d. and 4s 6d.

☛ THE GRAEFENBERG MEDICINES ARE ENTIRELY VEGETABLE. ☚

THEY do not contain one particle of Calomel or Mercury in any form, nor any mineral drug whatever. This fact is proved beyond a question. All of the Graefenberg preparations are made of the most skilfully compounded vegetable simples of the greatest value and efficacy. The formula of these wonderful family remedies has been sent to all the medical colleges and leading medical men in the country, and the truth of their perfect harmlessness, great simplicity, and yet wonderful efficacy (because they act in harmony with the fixed laws of Nature and of Providence), can be made apparent to all.

TESTIMONIALS.

(From the New York Tribune.)

The Graefenberg family Medicines are most reliable. In the universal and distressing diseases of women, the remedies are gentle, judicious, and surely effective.

(From the New York News.)

The high moral character of the gentlemen of the Graefenberg Company, and the medical skill of the consulting physician (Dr. Bridge), should induce entire confidence in their preparations.

(From the New York Daily Times.)

The Graefenberg Company have refitted their rooms, so that every accommodation is afforded those who desire the personal advice of the consulting physician. All invalids, and strangers visiting the city, who require professional advice, had better call upon him. Dr. Bridge is a regular physician of fine attainments and of great judgment and discrimination in the treatment of disease.

My personal acquaintance with some of the members of the Graefenberg Company fully justifies me in expressing the opinion that their medicines are worthy of confidence.

FRANCIS HALL, Editor and Proprietor
New York Commercial Advertiser.

I hereby certify that I have examined a number of testimonials exhibited to me by the Graefenberg Company, relative to the merits of their medicines, and I take pleasure in saying that they present evidences of genuineness, and are therefore entitled to the confidence of the public.

N. BANGS, D. D., of the Methodist Church.

I certify that the Graefenberg Company have submitted to me certificates of Francis Hall, Esq., and the Rev. Dr. Bangs. They are genuine and deserving of confidence.

WM. V. BRADY, Mayor of New York.

Attention is earnestly requested to the names of distinguished persons who have spoken regarding the value of Graefenberg treatment in various portions of this Almanac and to the following:

Consulate of the U. S. of America, Bombay, Sept., 1860.

This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with J. F. Bridge, M. D., of the city of New York, and that he is a learned and skilful physician of high standing; and, further, that I have used the Graefenberg Medicines according to directions given in the "Graefenberg Manual of Health," for several years, to my entire satisfaction; and I can confidently recommend them to all who wish to save doctors' bills and enjoy good health.

L. H. HATFIELD, American Consul, Bombay.

Y., being duly sworn, testifies that he has personally witnessed the action of the Graefenberg Family Medicines in the diseases mentioned in this Almanac for 1863; that they have uniformly cured, and all that is said of them may be implicitly believed.

I farther say, that all the statements made by the Graefenberg Company or its physicians, are worthy of entire confidence.

Sworn to before me, the 15th day of July, A. D. 1861,
GEO. KELLOCK, Com'r of Deeds.

Mayor's Office, City of New York, April 16, 1859.

Bridge, of New York, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the attending and consulting physician to the Graefenberg Company, New York; that he has had general supervision of the preparation of the Graefenberg Family Medicines for ten years, and that he has known their effect to have been uniformly good. All persons interested may rely upon the statements of the Graefenberg Company with implicit confidence. * * * * Sworn to before me, this 16th day of April 1859. DANIEL F. TIEMANN,

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Unseemly Eruptions.—No means heretofore discovered are so competent to cope with and conquer all blemishes, boils, eruptions, redness and roughness of the skin, as those celebrated medicaments, which, to be praised, need only to be known. Holloway's remedies cool the system, regulate the circulation, and so thoroughly purify the whole body, that whatever is hurtful must inevitably be swept away, and be succeeded by healthy structures, which alone can be derived from rich and pure blood. The cosmetic virtues of this unguent have been long appreciated: no toilet-table is well appointed which lacks its presence. It soothes and cleanses the most fine and tender skins, and when assisted by Holloway's Pills, is the most valuable beautifier.
